2013 SEC Gymnastics Television Schedule Released

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. -- The Southeastern Conference released the 2013 gymnastics television schedule today. Combined, the networks will broadcast 18 SEC gymnastics meets this season, in addition to the SEC Championship. All meets will be broadcast on a delayed basis.

Six meets will be distributed nationally by ESPN. Fox Sports Net (SportSouth, FS Midwest, FS Southwest and Sun Sports) will televise eight contests while CSS (Comcast/Charter Sports Southeast) will broadcast five meets.

In addition to regular season action, fans can watch the SEC Championship on ESPNU and ESPN. Fans will also be able to access the ESPN and ESPN2 telecasts through their mobile devices on WatchESPN.
