In fact, Mizzou has been shut out in its last three SEC Friday games. The Tigers were then blanked again, 8-0, on a four-homer outburst by the Bayou Bengals. Mizzou then got out to a 5-1 lead on Sunday before allowing five runs in the third to allow LSU to leave Columbia with a sweep in a 6-5 decision. TENNESSEE Volunteers

Tennessee hung tough against No. 3 Vanderbilt all weekend but couldn't quite find a way to finish off the Commodores, falling in all three games in Nashville. The Vols' best opportunity likely came on Friday night when Zack Godley matched VU ace Kevin Ziomek pitch-for-pitch and gave them seven strong innings with eight strikeouts. UT was in the lead or tied the entire game but never delivered a knockout blow, allowing the Commodores to walk-off with a 4-3 win in 12 innings. It was another game of missed opportunities on Saturday as the Big Orange committed three errors and left nine runners stranded in scoring position in an 8-3 Vanderbilt victory. The big blow for the Commodores came late in that game as they plated five runs in the eighth inning to break the game open late. On Sunday, Tennessee found itself with a late lead once again, only to have a grand slam by VU's Kyle Smith propel his team to a 12-8 triumph. UT junior Scott Price paced a 16-hit attack in that contest, going a perfect 4-for-4 with three RBIs and a walk. Through the first nine SEC games, he has been the team's top hitter with a .405 average and nine RBIs. Freshman A.J. 2013 SEC BASEBALL ATTENDANCE BREAKDOWN

2013 SEC ATTENDANCE LEADERS
April 1, 2013

Year after year, the SEC continues to be the benchmark in paid college baseball attendance. The SEC and its member schools own virtually all regular season, conference tournament, NCAA Regional and Super Regional attendance records. The SEC and one of its institutions have led the NCAA in total and average attendance for the last 15 seasons in a row, and 20 of the last 26 years. In 2007, the SEC drew nearly 1.7 million and averaged for 4,000 per game for first time in history. New records were once again set in 2011 as the league drew over two million for the first time ever, as well as nearly 5,000 per game. An NCAA-record 2,191,785 total fans and 5,181 per game attended regular season games in the SEC last season. That marked the 11th year in a row the SEC has topped the one million mark in attendance, leading the nation once again in that category by a wide margin.

The Southeastern Conference

Setting the Standard for Intercollegiate Athletics

in

Baseball

The Southeastern Conference, with its storied 79-year history of athletic achievements and academic excellence, has built perhaps the greatest tradition of intercollegiate competition in baseball of any league in the country since its inception in 1933.

The SEC posted another tremendous season in 2012 as the conference had eight teams earn selection to NCAA postseason play with South Carolina, Arkansas and Florida advancing to the College World Series. A SEC squad has now appeared in the College World Series 27 of the last 28 years. South Carolina advanced to the National Championship Series, marking the eighth time since 2000 a SEC team played for the national championship in Omaha and fifth in a row. Mississippi State won the SEC tournament title over Vanderbilt. LSU won the SEC regular-season title with a 19-11 conference record, while South Carolina won the Eastern Division with a 18-11 record.

The Southeastern Conference boasts 12 former National Players of the Year (Florida's Mike Zunino won in 2012), 11 Baseball America Coach of the Year and 10 Collegiate Baseball Coach of the Year honors. Also, 155 student-athletes have been named first-team All-American, six of which came in 2012.

Four SEC players were taken in the first round of the 2012 Major League Baseball Amateur Draft, held in June in New York City. Florida's Mike Zunino was picked third by the Seattle Mariners. Kevin Gausman of LSU was selected fourth by the Baltimore Orioles, while Mississippi State's Chris Stratton was 20th by the San Francisco Giants. Brian Johnson of Florida was selected 31st by the Boston Red Sox. With those four selections this year, the SEC has now had a first round selection in each year since 1991 and 93 total in the first round during that time.

The SEC drew a record of nearly 2.2 million fans to its on-campus ballparks in 2012, the sixth year in a row to draw over 1.6 million. Seven SEC teams drew in excess of 100,000 fans to their parks in 2012. The SEC averaged a record 5,181 fans per game in 2012, the sixth straight year to exceed the 4,000 mark and first over 5,000. The SEC Baseball Tournament drew a new record-high of 129,112 fans in 2012, 7,595 per game. The event has become the Birmingham metro's highest attended sporting event annually, second in the state only to NASCAR races at Talladega. The SEC Championship Game was broadcast nationally on ESPN2 for the third straight year.

Notes

- The SEC has sent 46 teams to the College World Series since 1990. That was accomplished despite no SEC teams making the field in 1992. LSU has been to Omaha 12 times, Florida eight times, South Carolina six times, Georgia five times, Mississippi State four times, while Alabama, Arkansas and Tennessee have been three times each. Auburn has been twice.
- SEC teams have won nine of the last 22 national championships, with LSU winning six (1991, 1993, 1996, 1997, 2000, 2009), South Carolina winning two (2010, 2011) and Georgia claiming the 1990 title. The SEC has finished runner up six times in that time, 1997, 2002, 2005, 2008, 2011 and 2012.
- SEC teams are 95-80 since 1990 in Omaha, a 55.9 winning percentage. Not counting games against each other, the SEC has posted a 70-56 record in the College World Series since 1990, a 55.6 winning percentage.
- The SEC has played 43 games in the "Final Four" of the College World Series since 1990, an average of over 1.5 per year. Only five times, 1992,1994, 2003, 2006 and 2007 has the SEC failed to get a team to the "Final Four" of the CWS.
- The SEC has averaged nearly eight games played per year in the College World Series since 1990. In 2004, 12 of the 15 games played in Omaha involved a SEC team. In 1997, the SEC had a team in 13 of the 14 games played in the CWS. Since 1990, an SEC team has played in 150 of the 330 games in the College World Series, an amazing 45.5 percent of games. SEC teams played in 9 of the 15 in 2012.
- The SEC has sent 10 of its 12 schools to the College World Series since 1990 - Alabama, Arkansas, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, LSU, Mississippi State, South Carolina, Tennessee and Vanderbilt. Ole Miss has played in four Super Regionals the last eight seasons.
- Since 1990, 153 SEC squads have been invited to the NCAA Tournament, an average over seven per season. The SEC set yet another NCAA record in 2004, 2005 and 2008 with nine teams earning postseason births. The SEC also had a NCAA-record five teams earn regional host sites in 2004 and 2006.
- The SEC has had an NCAA-high 11 different teams compete in the 59-year history of the College World Series. In those appearances, the conference has registered a 117-119 record, a 49.6 winning percentage.
- Since 1990, 28 SEC squads have posted 50+ wins, while 113 have won 40+ games in a season, including six in 2012.
- The SEC posted a 252-89 record against non-conference foes in 2012, a 73.9 winning percentage. Since 1990, the SEC has accumulated a 5559-2087-4 record against non-conference teams, a 72.7 winning percentage.
- SEC teams have also been strong in the polls. Since 1990, 111 conference teams have appeared in the final ESPN/USA Today Coaches poll.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. -- The Southeastern Conference has announced its 2013 SEC Baseball television schedule, the fourth under the league's 15-year agreement with ESPN. The entire broadcast package will include over 70 contests. In addition, all games from the 2013 SEC Tournament will continue to be televised, with the championship game airing again nationally on ESPN2. The package is derived from broadcasts on ESPN, ESPN2, ESPNU, ESPNEWS, Fox Sports and CSS. In addition, WatchESPN/ESPN3 will also stream most contests live online.

"Both the success and popularity of baseball in our conference continue to grow," said SEC Commissioner Mike Slive. "We are pleased to be able to offer an increased amount of television coverage of SEC Baseball to our teams and to our fans. This continues to move our baseball exposure to new levels and to a national audience."

SEC schools maintain the rights to air additional games not included in the SEC package with various television outlets, including official SEC regional television outlets. More than 60 additional games will be broadcast via those means, bringing the total number of SEC baseball games broadcast in 2013 to over 130.
