SEC Announces Women's Soccer Television Schedule

The Southeastern Conference unveiled the 2012 women's soccer television schedule on Wednesday afternoon. The league is entering the fourth year of its historic television agreements which gives SEC soccer teams some of the most extensive television exposure nationally.

ESPNU, which is available in more than 73 million households, will televise four regular season matches in addition to the SEC Tournament championship match. Additionally, SportSouth, CSS and CST will combine to bring the SEC's television appearances to 16 during the 2012 season.

The SEC Women's Soccer Tournament will begin on Oct. 29 in Orange Beach, Ala., and the championship will be televised live on ESPNU Nov. 4.

Every ESPNU match will be streamed on WatchESPN. SportSouth, CSS and CST matches will also be made available on ESPN3.com.
